WILSON GRANTS MEXICAN TROOPS PASSAGE THRU ARIZONA AND NEW MEXICO TO REACH REBEL STATES

GOVERNOR OF TEXAS REFUSED TO PERMIT TRESPASS ON HIS STATE

IT IS SAID WILSON WANTS TO SHOW PRESIDENT CARRANZA WE ARE NOT FRIENDLY TO OBREGON

BUT WHY SHOW ANYTHING AT ALL?

WASHINGTON, May 3—President Wilson has granted the request of the Mexican federal army that they be allowed to pass over United States territory en route from Mexico City to the southern state of Sonora it was learned today.

The President taking this step through the State Department recognized the vigorous protest of Governor Hobby of Texas against the dispatch of Mexican troops across his state.

The troops will pass through Arizona and New Mexico, their executives having agreed to allow them to go that route to Mexico City.

Wilson's action in permitting the troops of Carranza to invade United States territory was taken to mean that the President does not want to be considered in sympathy with the Obregon rebels.

ANOTHER AMERICAN AND SON MURDERED IN MEXICO SUNDAY

WASHINGTON, May 3—Eben Francis Greenlaw, an American citizen and his minor son, were murdered by Mexican bandits near Palazolas, in the state of Mexico, near Eloro yesterday, the State Department announced today.

Greenlaw for many years was in the lumber business in Mexico. The American embassy at Mexico City has asked the government of Mexico to apprehend and punish the murderers.

MARYLAND PRIMARY VOTE IS LIGHT

BALTIMORE, May 3—The vote in both the Democratic and Republican presidential primaries was light throughout Maryland. Indications were that General Wood would lead. Wood and Senator Hiram Johnson were the only candidates on the G. O. P. ballot. Johnson had no organization. Only three spaces were provided on the Republican ballot. They were for Wood, Johnson and the uninstructed.

LONGEST GAME IN MAJOR LEAGUE PLAYED SATURDAY

The National league game at Boston Saturday between the Braves and the Superbas, which was called at the end of the twenty-sixth inning on account of darkness, with the score a tie 1-1, broke all former major league records.

The longest previous game was played in the American league on Sept. 1, 1896, between Boston and Philadelphia at Boston, the Athletics winning 4 to 1.

The longest previous game in the National league was between Pittsburgh and the Superbas at Brooklyn on August 22, 1917, Brooklyn beating the Pirates on that occasion 5 to 5.

HURRICANE KILLS TEN IN OKLAHOMA VILLAGE

MUSKOGEE, Okla., May 3—Ten persons were killed and thirty injured by a tornado which swept over the town of Peggs late yesterday. A special train left here with physicians and nurses. Peggs has a population of 250 inhabitants.

$2500 REWARD FOR "NICKY" ARNSTEIN MASTER BOND CROOK

NEW YORK, May 3—A reward of $2500 was offered thru newspaper advertising for information leading to the arrest and extradition of Jules Arnstein and Nicholas Cohn, alleged "master minds" in the theft of five million dollars in securities from Wall Street brokers. The reward was offered by Henry Gildersleeve, trustee in bankruptcy and Sam S. Myers, counsel for the trustees and the National Security Company. Scores have engaged in the hunt for Arnstein within the past few weeks. Jos Black, a messenger boy, alleged that he turned over to Arnstein over a million in stolen securities.

LARKIN, ANARCHIST EDITOR, GETS 5 YEARS

NEW YORK, May 3—James Larkin, agitator, and editor of the "Revolutionary Age," convicted here last week of criminal anarchy was sentenced to not less than five years and not more than ten years in Sing Sing prison late today by Judge Weeks of the criminal division of the Supreme Court.

SUPREME COURT DENIES REQUEST FOR REHEARING

WASHINGTON, May 3—The Supreme Court today denied the request of the government for a rehearing of the anti-trust suit against the United States Steel corporation.

IMPROVING RESTAURANT PROPERTY

Joseph Pickering is improving and greatly enlarging his restaurant building on Third street, formerly occupied by the Bon Ton restaurant. The work is being done by Contractor W. A. Lukens. When completed the building will be occupied by a Greek restaurant.

REPORT KIEFF FALLEN TO POLES

LONDON, May 3—Kieff has been captured by the Poles from the Russian Soviet troops according to unofficial advices at the foreign office.

CLEVELAND MAN SHOTS FIVE IN INSANE FRENZY

CLEVELAND, Ohio, May 3—Seven casualties occurred when Charles Pross, aged 27, a mechanic, ran amuck while temporarily insane here late yesterday. He shot himself, his wife, her aunt, his landlord and a passerby. Two patrol wagons rushing to the scene ran over a child and an old man. Pross and the landlord are in a critical condition but the others were not seriously hurt.

MOOSE MEMORIAL SERVICES SUNDAY

The annual memorial services of Clearfield Lodge No. 97, L. O. O. M. held in the Liberty Theatre, Sunday afternoon, was attended by an audience which filled every seat in the theatre.

The meeting was presided over by J. D. Connelly, Rev. Elbert V. Brown made the opening prayer.

Miss Celestia Bonney sang a very pretty solo, accompanied by Miss Margaret James on the piano.

The memorial address was delivered by A. R. Chase, Esq., and was a splendid effort.

The Loyal Order of Moose maintains a Children's home and vocational training school on a 1000 acre farm at Mooseheart, about 40 miles west of Chicago, and in addition to the regular memorial exercises four reels of moving pictures of Mooseheart were shown. The order looks after the welfare and education of the dependent children of deceased and indigent members of the order and at present more than eight hundred children are being housed, cared for and educated at Mooseheart, where many others equipped by a proper education there have been sent forth to battle with the world.

D. D. Guppy, organizer of the local lodge, and one of the State directors of the organization explained the policy of the Moose lodge and pointed out the advantages of this philanthropic institution while the pictures of Mooseheart were being shown.

The Loyal Order of Moose is distinctively an American order and has been in existence since 1888. It now numbers over five hundred thousand members throughout America and the local lodge has a membership of over five hundred.

THE BRISBIN FIRE

Sunday, May 24, was the thirty-eighth anniversary of the Brisbin fire. On this occasion away back in 1882 a forest fire swept that region, destroying the big saw mill and lumber yard of Hoover-Hughes & Company, and communicating with the frame buildings of the little mining town wiped it off the map.

A car load of provisions and clothing was dispatched from Clearfield to the fire sufferers on the following Monday.

GRAND JURY IN SESSION

The Grand Jury met at the Court House today, for the purpose of passing upon the May term criminal list.

J. S. Thompson, of DuBois, was appointed Foreman by Judge Bell.

There are a total of sixty-five cases on the list for trial at criminal court, which will begin Monday, May 17th.

LEONARD WOOD

1860—Born at Winchester, N. H.
1884—Graduated from Harvard Medical School.
1886—Appointed First Lieutenant and Assistant Surgeon, U. S. A.
1889—Received degree of LL. D. from Harvard.
1890—Married to Miss Louise A. Condit Smith, Washington, D. C.
1891—Appointed Captain and Assistant Surgeon, U. S. A.
1898—Recruited and Organized 1st Volunteers Cavalry Regiment ("Rough Riders") Made Colonel. Awarded Congressional Medal of Honor for campaign against Apaches in 1896. Promoted to Brigadier-General.
1899—Honorable discharged from volunteer service. Made Major-General, U. S. A. Military Governor of Cuba.
1903—Governor of Moro province, Philippines.
1906—In command of Philippine Division of the army.
1908—Commander of Department of the East (Governor's Island).
1910—Special ambassador to Argentina.
1910-1914—Chief of Staff U. S. A.
1914-1917—Commander of Department of the East.
1918—Commander of 89th Division, Camp Funston, Kan. Commander of Central Department (Chicago).
1920—On temporary leave of absence to conduct campaign for Presidency.

Leonard Wood is the heavyweight of the 1920 crop of Presidential candidates. He weighs 195 and lacks one inch of being 6 feet tall. His chest measurement is 44 inches. He used to box with Colonel Roosevelt and he likes to play golf. He is a swimmer of marked ability.

The General gets most pleasure, however, out of horseback riding. Although in his sixtieth year, he can outstride either of his two sons or any man on his staff. It often has been said his love of riding accounted for his desertion of medicine in favor of a straight army career.

In making his rounds as Commander of the Central Department of the Army, General Wood is called on many times to speak. On these occasions and during his campaign for the Presidency, he reaches the platform fresh, buoyant and genial.

When he starts speaking he either clasps his hands behind his back or grasps a chair or platform rail in front of him. Yet none of the force of his argument or clear presentment is lost by his lack of gestures. He invariably has created favorable impressions. In the course of his address he speaks deliberately and emphatically.

They say General Wood never gives orders he himself can't or won't do. Once in Cuba he was training some of his privates to swim. He wanted them to be able to swim across a river with all their equipment on. To prove it could be done, he strapped a big knapsack across his shoulders, grabbed a gun and plunged into the stream.

Leonard Wood was born October 9, 1860, at Winchester, N. H., a town of 2,000 in the southwestern corner of the state. He attended the schools of the vicinity, doing college preparatory work at Pierce Academy, Middleboro, Mass. At 24 he had taken the Harvard Medical School course, from which he was graduated at the head of his class. He had intended

ITALIAN DROWNS IN RIVER NEAR SHEEP ROCKS

Believed He Fell Off B. R. & Railroad Bridge While Crossing To Pick Dandelions

BODY FOUND FLOATING IN RIVER

The body of Tomasso Panoggo, an Italian railroad worker was found floating in the Susquehanna river, opposite the Sheep Rocks between 5:30 and 6:00 o'clock last evening.

The deceased, who was employed as a track hand on the New York Central road, lived at the bunk house on cars in the local yards and about 11 o'clock yesterday morning left the car and started across the river to gather dandelion greens. That was the last seen of Panoggo alive.

About 5:30 o'clock last evening George Condon was standing in the door of his home at the Sheep Rocks when his attention was called to a bundle done up in a blue handkerchief and a man's hat floating down the river. He called the attention of his brother, who was nearby, to the floating objects. On looking up the river the body of a man was seen floating along with the current.

The Condons then ran out of their house and down the river a couple of hundred yards where they secured a boat and pulling out into the stream caught the body and brought it to shore. The hat and handkerchief contained a quantity of dandelions.

Word was at once telephoned to Dr. Paul Frantz who hurried to the scene but the man was beyond human aid when the doctor arrived.

District Attorney Arnold was notified and the remains taken to Leavy's Undertaking rooms. Sheriff Gorman made a hurried investigation and located one of Panoggo's fellow workmen who identified the body at the undertaking rooms.

County Coroner Dr. J. I. Pollum, of DuBois, came to Clearfield this morning and held an inquest over the remains. No evidence of foul play was discovered and it is the opinion of the Coroner that Panoggo was seized with an attack of vertigo while crossing the B. R. & P. railroad bridge and fell off the bridge into the river and was drowned.

The remains were prepared for burial by Undertaker Leavy and will be buried from St. Francis church tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. Interment in Calvary cemetery.

FULL ECLIPSE OF MOON PROVED TO BE A GRAND SPECTACLE

An eclipse of the moon, visible in all parts of America, afforded a splendid and interesting spectacle to a large number of people who happened to observe the skies last evening. The sky was practically cloudless and the phenomenon was visible throughout the entire process. The eclipse started in at 7 o'clock and continued until 10:41. The totality started at 8:15 and lasted until 9:30, during which time the face of the moon was entirely obscured.

The eclipse was seen under more favorable auspices, perhaps, than ever before, and was noticed by a large number of people.

It was a surgeon in civil life.

Two years later, however, he received appointment as a First Lieutenant and Assistant Surgeon, in the United States Army. Right at the outset he saw action. Assigned to the medical staff of General Miles, he took part in the campaign in Arizona against the Apache Indians under Geronimo and Natchez. In that cam-

NEW YORK "RED" HELD CAPTIVE KILLS SELF

Jumps From Window of Department of Justice Quarters In New York City

HELD THERE SINCE MARCH 7

NEW YORK, May 3—Alfredo Salfedo, who was one of the leaders in the plot to bomb the homes of prominent Americans last June, jumped to his death from the 14th floor of the Park-row building. This floor contained the offices of the Justice Department agents where Salfedo was confined in company with several others connected with the plot. Salfedo who is 37 years old was a printer and was alleged to have printed the literature found at the scene of the explosion at the home of Attorney General Palmer in Washington. Salfedo and the others were arrested May 7, and have been held in the building so their confederates would not know of their whereabouts. Wm. J. Flynn, chief of the department of justice operatives, said.

TEACHERS' FUND OVER $2,000,000

Receipts of the State School Employees' Retirement System have passed the $2,000,000 mark, the State and local school districts contributing $1,192,253.25 and the teachers and other employees $927,808.74. Considerable additional money is expected in the next few months.

The Retirement system has invested $200,000 of the funds in Victory Liberty Bonds and the remainder is being invested in school district and road bonds of the State.

Thus far 156 school employees have been retired on a super-annuation retirement allowance and forty-three on disability allowances, the average age of the former being 71.61 years and of the disability annuitants 49.05. The average monthly allowance paid to those retired for age is $26.75 and for disability $23.12. The total paid in superannuation annuities to April 1, was $15,429.55.

Five of each class of retirements have died since the establishment of the State.

PHILA. COPS MUST LOOK NATTY ON 15 CENT PAY INCREASE

PHILADELPHIA, May 1.—(United Press).—Members of the Philadelphia police force may have to employ valets. They recently were granted an increase in pay of fifteen cents a day.

Guardians of the law, who in the future fail to present neat appearance, will be tried for neglect of duty, according to an order issued by Superintendent of Police Mills. The order applies to the entire force, from Captain down to Turnkey—on or off duty.

"Keep your face cleanly shaven, hair neatly trimmed, clothing brushed and sponged, trousers pressed so as to show a crease front and back, and shoes shined," are among the suggestions. The ban has been placed on shoes run down at the heel. Caps are to be worn with visors well down over the eyes.

Failure of superiors to carry out the order will land the offenders before the trial board.

NO DRY LAW DECISION IS READY YET

MAY SEVENTEENTH GIVEN AS LIKELY DECISION DATE SUSPENSE AWFUL

WASHINGTON, May 3—The Supreme Court is to hand down decisions at noon today but indications are that an opinion on constitutional prohibition will not be made public. The prohibition question is so important that an extensive opinion has to be prepared and the court was engaged in hearing arguments all last week and did not have time to prepare the opinion.

The decision will probably not be handed down until May 17, as the Court will recess for two weeks.

ADDITIONAL WARSHIPS DISPATCHED TO MEXICO TO PROTECT AMERICANS

WASHINGTON, May 3—Additional United States destroyers will be sent to the eastern coast of Mexico to protect Americans it was announced at the State Department. The State Department asked the Navy Department to dispatch the destroyers at the urgent request of the Americans in Mexico. The only American vessel on the eastern coast is the cruiser Sacramento off Tampico. It was explained at the State Department that there was no imminent danger but the vessels were being sent merely to reassure United States citizens.

BAD BOYS OPERATING

There are a bunch of boys in the lower end of town and on Merrill street, Third Ward, who will get into trouble if they don't mend their ways. These boys are making a practice of taking bicycles and tricycles and after riding them around town, dumping them in ditches and out of the way places. The police uncovered two such tricycles on Saturday last.

Over on Merrill street bad boys and children generally are making life miserable for the neighbors. During the past week they have played havoc with personal property and laws generally and the police have been appealed to for relief.

Parents should keep a little closer tab on their youngsters and thus save trouble for their neighbors and themselves.

CLEARFIELD BOY MARRIED

Charles Young, son of Mrs. Philip Young, of Locust street, a student at State College, pulled a complete surprise on his host of Clearfield friends by slipping quietly down to Baltimore with the girl of his choice and hunting up an obliging minister had the words said which made them man and wife.

The fortunate young lady was Miss Lois Kirk, daughter of Dr. Kirk, of Bellefonte, who also has many friends in Clearfield, where she has visited frequently.

"He kept us out of sugar."

Every Knox a boost—for somebody.

Oh, why this suspense? Now they say May 17th is the day when we shall know whether we must look to soft drinks for hot weather relief.

Carranza evidently is a disciple of the "treat 'em rough" idea. His subjects murder our citizens and the rougher he treats us the more we give him.

Did you begin "The House of Whispers" Saturday evening? If not start today before it is too late. To help you out we reprint here a short synopsis of the opening chapter. This is the last call.

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I.—Circumstances having prevented Spalding Nelson, clerk, joining the American forces going to France, he is in a despondent mood when he receives an invitation to dinner from his great-uncle, Rufus Gaston. On his way to the house he meets, under peculiar circumstances, a young girl, apparently in trouble, to whom he has an opportunity to be of slight service. She lives in the same apartment building as Rufus Gaston, and he accompanies her to the house. In charge of the apartment, he accepts Gaston and his wife tell their great-nephew of mysterious noises—"whispers"—which they have heard in the house.

Outguessing Mr. Penrose is the latest indoor sport of the political "bug." His favorable comment on Mr. Knox at a time when the address of Philander was never being mentioned was sufficient reason for the diversion of all gossip to an entirely new channel. Now the question is "does the senator mean it seriously to the extent that he and his colleagues will trot out the well ripened statesman as the expected dark horse of 1920. Not likely. Dark horses are not publicly groomed so early especially by the horsemen who has so many bets placed. The senator naturally has his own good reasons for mentioning Knox at this time. One thing is certain. It does not help any of the candidates already in the field and while it puts Knox in the limelight for a time, to us it appears that it is not Knox who will be the real dark horse. We are thankful the senator did not speak so of Sproul. Had he done so we would have lost hope for our governor as the possible dark horse.

Allowing the Mexican Federal army to make a foothold of sacred United States soil which has long been despoiled and ravaged by Mexicans without so much as a lifted hand against them by the Commander in Chief of the Mexican Federal army is an act for which Woodrow Wilson will be held responsible. The present Mexican government will be stable only so long as their ammunition and political power last. If we are to eventually be friends of Mexico we must be friendly now to all her factions, Sonora included. The portion of Mexico not in sympathy with Carranza will ever resent our letting her oppressor in by the back door. This action only serves to further embroil this country in Mexican affairs and makes us foster father to Carranza.

"Mitch" Palmer's May Day bomb outrages did not show up anywhere in this broad land on Saturday, although something of the kind had been scheduled or promised for Clearfield. On Friday evening between the hours of 7:30 and 8:15 a letter was pasted on the door of Shaw Bros. store on Nichols street in which the writer, a particularly illiterate cuss, demanded that Shaw Brothers leave the small compact sum of $4,000 under the coal shed at the B. R. & P. station or their store would be blown up by a bomb from an airplane.

The note was pasted upon the door with molasses and while it was generally regarded as the work of a crank or an idiot, some little thought was given it, because the paster had molasses with which to do his pasting. Anything sweet nowadays, by the token of Palmer's Louisiana sugar price, can only be in the possession of the fellow with money and Shaw Brothers, while not in the least alarmed over the affair, thought it the better part of wisdom and prudence to acquaint the authorities with the affair.

The District Attorney and Sheriff were given the note and what information or suspicion there was available regarding the matter and the poor "nut" responsible is going to be pretty sure of an enforced vacation at the county's expense before he is much older.

Of course no further attention was paid to the demand for the placing of the coin and thus another "lemon extract dream" went up in smoke, with the Palmer hushwa, as the store still stands.

HUGHES—WOOMER

Alexander Owen Hughes, son of Martin Hughes, of Clearfield, Pa., and Esther Gordon Woomer, daughter of Mrs. J. W. Woomer, of Bigler, Pa., were united in the holy bonds of wedlock at the home of the bride in Bigler, at 6 p. m., April 22, 1920.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. L. McCoy, pastor of the United Brethren church of Bigler, in the presence of the immediate relatives of the contracting parties. The bridesmaid was Miss Mina Woomer, sister of the bride, and the groom was attended by his brother, Mr. William Hughes. Following the ceremony a sumptuous wedding supper was served.

Mr. Hughes holds a responsible position with the Williams Grove Brick Company, of Bigler, and Mrs. Hughes was a popular saleslady in the W. D. Walker & Brothers' store in Bigler. They will reside in Bigler, where they enjoy the best wishes of their many friends.

The House of Whispers

was one of the prettiest girls I ever had seen. Her slim figure, her dainty ankles, her carriage, everything about her suggested the patrician. Her face, rosy and youthful, was set off by a jaunty feathered toque, from under which a pair of soft, black, roguish eyes, shaded by long lashes, looked out above a dainty nose, just a bit tip tilted, on either side of which a fugitive dimple played.

To my great amazement she walked right up to me and stopped short. I observed then that she seemed to be greatly agitated. Involuntarily I sprang to my feet and removed my hat, feeling certain that she had mistaken me for someone else.

She looked straight at me with an odd tightening of the lips. Into her great dark eyes came a look in which pride and fear seemed to mingle with utter loathing.

"I am here," she said.
In my confusion I mumbled something, I hardly knew what. She looked

"You Were to Wear One, Too."

ed me up and down with a puzzled air and raised her hand to a red carnation she was wearing.

"You were to wear one, too."

"I don't understand," I answered.

"Didn't you," she asked hoistingly. "Didn't you come here about the papers?"

"What papers?"

"You know—"

"I don't know," I replied. "I know nothing about any papers. You must have mistaken me for someone else."

"But this was the place—this bench—the first bench?"

"I sat down here quite by accident."

"Oh!" she exclaimed with a sigh of relief. "And you're not wearing a red carnation, either?"

I recalled then with misgiving that the ill-favored youth who just a moment ago had disputed the bench with me had been wearing a red carnation, and that he had muttered something about having a date. Yet it did not seem possible that a girl of this sort would be having a rendezvous with a scamp like him. I determined if possible to ascertain the girl's mission.

"I am merely waiting here," I hastened to explain, "until it is time for me to keep a dinner engagement with some relatives in the apartment house from which you came."

As I spoke I noticed that the fear and loathing had vanished from her eyes and that she was looking with relief at a little college pin I was wearing. She was blushing now from confusion at her mistake, and the rising red in her cheeks added greatly to her exquisite loveliness.

"I was to meet someone here," she faltered; "you quite understand, don't you?"

"I understand perfectly," I answered, and recalling the scar-faced man who had been lurking in the bushes, I hurried on to say, "but if I can be of any service—"

"No, no," she sobbed, apparently overwhelmed by whatever it was that was besetting her. "It's nothing—nothing anyone can help."

"Tell me about the man you were to meet here."

"Who are you?" she demanded, her suspicion suddenly rising at my question. "You're not a detective?"

"Far from it," I answered humbly. "I'm just plain Spalding Nelson, on my way to dine with my great-uncle Rufus Gaston."

"Oh!" she said, relieved, "my apartment is on the same floor as yours."

"Tell me about the man you were to meet," I insisted. "I may have seen him."

"Did you? What was he like?" she demanded eagerly.

"Don't you know him?" I countered.

"No, I never saw him. I don't even know who he is. I only know that there was to be a man waiting here on this bench this evening. We were both to wear red carnations. I was to come here alone, to see him and to get the—"

She stopped abruptly and tearing off the flower she was wearing, trampled it viciously under her foot.

"Not so loud," I warned her, fear-

The Most Dreaded Work of The Week

How the housewife hates wash day—especially in the hot summer-time. Can you blame her? That back-breaking scrubbing, that standing over a hot wash boiler or ironing. The heat of summer sun is bad enough yet added to that is hard work over more intense, overcoming heat.

Wise women won't waste their health, looks and energy doing it. Considerate husbands won't allow them to. Humane people won't allow their servants to do such work in the summer time when a laundry like ours can do the work so efficient and at so trifling a cost.

Preserve your women folk's health by being modern in your ideas. Preserve your clothes by having them washed by our modern methods.

Light Work of the Heavy Load

Capacity—that's an outstanding quality of Atlantic Gasoline. That is what it puts into the engine of your truck. That is the main distinction of Atlantic gasoline. Every atom of Atlantic gives pull, because every atom of it burns. It is all fuel, all energy, all value in advanced mileage.

Atlantic makes light work of the heavy load, because it does just what it is meant to do—sticks to the job on the level or on the hills. It is so flexible that it compensates for the whimsies of the carburetor. Once it is set, the driver goes on his merry way, getting over the ground, quickstep.

Atlantic vaporizes fast and thoroughly. It puts bounding pulsing life over the pistons. It works cleanly. It doesn't foul motor nor spark plug. Because it is all consumed, there is no leakage into cylinders or crank-case. So your lubrication stays right and doesn't get thinned out and useless.

Now is the time to buy the best gasoline you can get, and those who use it say Atlantic is that. Tank up your car at the Red Pump and have your truck drivers do the same. The Atlantic sign says, correctly,

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS CURWENSVILLE

J. M. McKinley, who is greatly interested in the boy scout movement in Curwensville, informed The Progress correspondent that there are now some sixty-four members on the roll-book. The next provoking question that arises is that the boys, and those interested in their welfare and advancement, have no place in which to hold their meetings, which is a great handicap to their progress and work. Will not those people who are always talking advancing the industrial, social and educational interests of the town, join hand in hand with Messrs. McKinley, Connelly and Brown, who constitute an advisory board of the Curwensville scouts, and make an unusual effort to secure suitable quarters for the four patrols? Could not the Friends' stone church building, situated at southwest end of Main street, be secured? The floor space is hardly large enough to accommodate all of the scouts at one time, but it would answer the purpose very well until more commodious quarters could be obtained. It is hardly a fair proposition to expect the three gentlemen above mentioned to do all the work unassisted, and looking at the situation from a moral and educational standpoint, it is the duty of all loyal citizens of the town to render what aid they can in moulding the character of every boy scout so that in good time he will be an honor to the church, his family and the town.

A little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Cook, who live at Naulton, was removed from her home to the Clearfield Hospital one day the latter part of last week, and was successfully operated upon for appendicitis.

A thirteen year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Mille, living on Ridge avenue, was sent to Clearfield Hospital last Friday by her physician Dr. Jenkins, where she will be treated for a severe attack of inflammatory rheumatism, and also have the tonsils removed.

A number of agricultural friends, despite the awful muddy roads, were in Curwensville on Saturday. From them your correspondent was able to glean the information that the planting of all spring crops was at least three weeks later than in other years. Many of them have not as yet plowed for either oats or corn.

Charles Shade, a track foreman on the Pennsylvania Railroad at Blue Ball, was a Sunday visitor with relatives. Prior to his entering the railroad service he was employed at the Pennsylvania Hide and Leather Company's plant as an outside foreman.

The social held in the Sunday School room of Grace Lutheran church last Friday evening was an entertaining affair and netted the young ladies under whose supervision it was given, the sum of ten dollars profit.

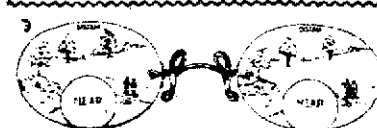

Some of the members of Rebekah Lodge, Odd Fellows, entertained Curwensville people Saturday afternoon and evening by holding a food sale in the room formerly occupied by the late Harry Teats. Both socially and financially the occasion was a success.

Mrs. Georgia Passmore, whose home is at Greensburg, Pa., is spending the week, or a large proportion of the same, with her sister, Mrs. Albert Maurer. Mrs. Passmore prior to her marriage, was an employee in the postoffice, under Postmaster Arnold.

Earl Clark, eldest son of Chief of Police Guy Clark, who left Curwensville some half dozen years ago to seek his fortune in the oil fields of Oklahoma, has made good and has sailed down quite a nice little "wad" for a rainy day. He is now located in Kansas, and is putting in his time selling oil stock.

Frank Weaver, who has been the efficient janitor of the two school buildings on this side of Anderson Creek, has resigned and will try some other vocation wherein the wages will be a little higher and the time put in to earn it much shorter than looking after the educational structures.

The funeral of W. B. Fox, who died last Friday forenoon, was held from his late home on Sunday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock. A large crowd assembled at the Fox home and marched to the cemetery, showing by their presence that the death of their friend had indeed cast a deep gloom throughout the entire community. Bethesda Lodge No. 821, had charge of the services at the graveside, the wording of which was beautiful, impressive and yet sorrowful.

A contingent from the Salvation Army, Clearfield, invaded Curwensville on Sunday and held street services in the forenoon on Susquehanna avenue, South Side. The Salvationists are doing a good and great work throughout the country and Curwensville citizens are always glad to welcome them to their midst.

Messrs. Santee, Maxwell and Blair took a day off Saturday from the cares of life, and went trout fishing. They refuse to divulge how many of the finny tribe they landed, but do say that they enjoyed their outing immensely.

John Kelly's bowling team went to Clearfield last Friday evening and threw the winning hook into an opposing team at the county seat by some 79 points.

Emory Daub, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Daub, who is employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company at Snow Shoe as a coal weigher, spent Sunday with his parents on Ridge avenue.

About one hundred Odd Fellows turned out on Sunday afternoon and attended the funeral of W. B. Fox. About one dozen of the Canton, in full uniform, came in from Clearfield and performed their service over the remains of their brother.

Salts Fine For Aching Kidneys

We eat too much meat, which clogs Kidneys, then Back hurts and Bladder bothers you.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

FOR BURNING ECZEMA

Apply Zemo, the Clean, Antiseptic Liquid—Easy to Use—Does Not Stain

Greasy salves and ointments should not be applied if good clear skin is wanted. From any druggist for 35c, or $1.00 for large size, get a bottle of Zemo. When applied, as directed, it effectively removes eczema, quickly stops itching, and heals skin troubles, also sores, burns, wounds and chafing. It penetrates, cleanses and soothes. Zemo is a clean, dependable and inexpensive antiseptic liquid. Try it, as we believe nothing you have ever used is as effective and satisfying.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

Why You Should Buy Guaranteed Roofing

When you buy roofing you want durability as well as shelter. You want to know that it will last long enough to make its average cost per year a reasonable figure.

That is why Certain-teed should appeal to you. For, when properly laid, Certain-teed Roofing is guaranteed for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to weight.

The guarantee adequately protects your investment, but it does not accurately measure Certain-teed's life. In fact no one knows just how durable Certain-teed is, because in no case has it ever been known to wear out on the roof.

And Certain-teed is more than durable. It is weather-proof, fire-retarding and spark-proof. It effectively shelters your property.

With all these advantages, Certain-teed Roofing costs less to buy, less to lay and less to maintain, than any other type of good roofing.

See your dealer about Certain-teed. He either has it or can get it quickly from a nearby Certain-teed distributing center.

ful lest they might still be lurking about and overhear us. "There were two of them."

"Two," she whispered, turning pale. "Yes, one waiting here on this bench, and the other, a villainous scur-faced fellow, hiding in the bushes yonder. 'I dare not go on with it,' she sobbed, 'I dare not! I dare not! Oh, what shall I do?'"

"The thing to do now," I replied, "is for you to let me accompany you back to your home. They will make no further attempt to meet you this evening, since my presence has spoiled their plans. Come, let me escort you, Miss."

As I hesitated over the name she answered simply:

"Bradford—Barbara Bradford." She pondered for a moment over my suggestion and then turned to walk with me toward the apartment house. "What were the men like?" she asked.

I described them as best I could, though really the impression that the youth on the bench had left was vague. His voice, an insolent, hoarse, uncultivated one, was almost all I could recall about him.

"I wonder who they were? I wonder how they knew?"

"Knew what?"

Her lips tightened into a straight line.

"I can't tell you. I haven't. It isn't my secret."

By this time we had reached her home and the bowing doorman was swinging back the great iron door for us. It had been my intention to announce my arrival, but recalling that Miss Bradford had said that the Gaston apartment was on the same floor as hers, I stepped with her into the elevator. When it had descended, leaving us together in the corridor, she turned to me and offered her hand.

"Thank you so much, Mr. Nelson."

"I wish you'd let me help you," I cried.

She shook her head.

"Well, promise me one thing," I insisted.

"What is it?"

"That you never again will go alone to the park to meet those men."

A tremor shook her body, and once more a look of terror crept into her eyes.

"I can't promise that. I must meet them. I must! I must!"

I reached out and took her hand.

"Promise me, then, that before you go again you will let me know."

"You must not try to stop my going," she cried desperately and freeing her hand turned quickly and unlocking her door left me standing there alone, staring after her.

Perplexed beyond measure as to what I ought to do, after a moment I pressed the bell and was admitted to the Gaston apartment and to the presence of my aged relatives.

Although I tried to pretend an interest in their conversation and absent ly answered their questions about my family, my thoughts kept constantly recurring to the strange trouble of the girl across the hall, her plight interesting me far more than the purpose for which my great-uncle had sent for me. I had expected that he would broach that subject himself, but the coffee arrived and still the conversation had been limited to stilted family chat. As we returned to the living room, I decided to give him a lead:

"My mother wrote me—" I began.

"Oh, yes," said old Rufus, looking relieved.

"Yes, yes, of course," echoed Mrs. Gaston.

I waited for one or the other of them to proceed but for some reason they both seemed at a loss for words.

"You tell him, Rufus," said my great-aunt at last.

His tired old eyes studied my countenance carefully, searchingly, as if he was trying to read my soul.

"What is it?" I asked impatiently.

"It is this," said old Rufus, speaking slowly and with effort, as if he hated to disclose his intentions.

"Three days from now—that will be Sunday morning—my wife and I are going to Maine to be gone for some months. We have leased a furnished cottage there and shall take our servants and our motor with us. We do not like to leave this apartment wholly untenanted, and it occurred to Mrs. Gaston that you might occupy it in our absence."

I am afraid my countenance at that moment must have betrayed my consternation. My great expectations vanished, blew up, disappeared. They did not want me for an heir but for a caretaker. What a fool I had been to imagine for a moment that this peculiar old couple had contemplated doing anything for me. They wanted me to do something for them. A

Sulphur Is Best To Clear Up Ugly, Broken Out Skin

Any breaking out or skin irritation on face, neck or body is overcome quickest by applying Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation that instantly brings ease from the itching, burning and irritation.

Mentho-Sulphur heals eczema right up, leaving the skin clear and smooth. It seldom fails to relieve the disfigurement. A little jar of Mentho-Sulphur may be obtained at any drug store. It is used like cold cream.

The Cold That Hangs On

This is No. 5 of a series of advertisements, prepared by a competent physician, explaining how certain diseases which attack the air passages—such as Pneumonia, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Measles or even a long continued Cold—often leave these organs in an inflamed, congested state, thus affording a favorable foothold for invading germs. And how Vick's Vapo-Rub may be of value in this condition.

A cold is simply an inflammation of some part of the air passages—throat, larynx or bronchial tubes—just like a sore is an inflammation of the skin. A long continued cold means constant inflammation and this constant inflammation frequently weakens the air passages so that they become an easy point of attack for invading germs of more serious diseases. A "cold that hangs on," therefore, is simply nature's "red flag" indicating that there is "trouble below," and this warning should never be neglected.

Nightly applications of Vick's VapoRub will aid nature to clear up that inflammation. Because Vick's acts locally by stimulation thru the skin to draw out the inflammation, attract the blood away from the congested spots

Vicks should be rubbed in over the throat and chest until the skin is red—then spread, on thickly and covered with hot flannel cloths. Leave the clothing loose around the neck and the bed clothes arranged in the form of a funnel so the vapors arising may be freely inhaled. If the cough is annoying, swallow a small bit of Vicks the size of a pea.

Samples to new users will be sent free on request to The Vick Chemical Company, 235 Broad Street, Greensboro, N. C.

NEPONSET ROOFS

For Buildings of All Kinds

For sloping roofs on residences, garages, bungalows, or public buildings, Neponset Twin Shingles make as handsome and durable a roof as it is possible to find anywhere—and they are most economical.

Neponset Twin Shingles are impregnated with asphalt and heavily surfaced with crushed slate. No wonder they resist time and wear. Their natural slate-red and slate-green colors are restful and beautiful.

They will not catch fire from falling sparks. Because they are two shingles in one and self-spacing, they require less labor and less nails to lay.

In the Springtime

It is just at this time of the year that we need something taken from Nature to restore the vital forces.

People get sick because they go away from Nature, and the only way to get back to Nature is something grows out of the ground in the form of vegetation. It is almost every ill. Some of these vegetable growths are understood by nature and some are not. Animals, if they seem, know what to do when they are sick better than men and women. Observers have noted that a dog, horse, dog or cat will stop eating if it does not seek out some vegetable growth in the field or yard, which, when found, it often restores appetite and health. Haven't you seen these animals do this very thing yourself?

Dr. Pierre, of Buffalo, N. Y., long since found herbs and roots provided by Nature to overcome constipation, and relieve the cough. In addition, the medicinal ingredients of Vicks are vaporized by the body heat. These vapors are breathed in all night long, thus bringing the medication to bear directly upon the inflamed areas. Vicks should be rubbed in over the throat and chest until the skin is red—then spread, on thickly and covered with hot flannel cloths. Leave the clothing loose around the neck and the bed clothes arranged in the form of a funnel so the vapors arising may be freely inhaled. If the cough is annoying, swallow a small bit of Vicks the size of a pea. Samples to new users will be sent free on request to The Vick Chemical Company, 235 Broad Street, Greensboro, N. C.

"PARLOR, BEDROOM AND BATH"

Abounding with happy developments, situations and a plot of never ending interest "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath" the A. H. Woods' famous farce, which comes to the Driggs Theatre on Tuesday, is said to be the most laughable entertainment of the past ten years. Each time a season of triumph that lasts five months in Chicago and six in months in New York, this attraction has just ended its engagement at the Republic Theatre. "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath" will be given local theatre goers in its entirety, with the same production and the usual cast of the Woods' standard. What fun pieces when a young husband ventures into an affair with a wife's maid to convince his wife he is a free man, the ladies furnished a reason for the unfolding of the laughable tale.

G. P. Stahl of DuBois, Secretary of the Clearfield County Non-Partisan Political Committee and one of the most intelligent labor leaders of the section, was a clear vision to day.

White House Hopes

When he served as a line officer and surgeon and for his extraordinary services he several years later was awarded a Congressional Medal of Honor.

When in 1898 the war with Spain broke out, Wood now married to Miss Louise A. Condit Smith and a Captain and Assistant Surgeon, recruited and organized the First Regiment of United States Volunteer Cavalry, the celebrated "Rough Riders." He was commissioned Colonel of the regiment and with Colonel Theodore Roosevelt he served in Cuba.

Wood was commissioned a Brigadier General in 1898 for gallant and meritorious services at the battles of San Juan Hill and Las Guasimas. In the next year he was promoted to Major General. He served as such for four months when he was mustered out of the volunteer forces and later was re-appointed a brigadier general in the regular forces.

When the war was over, Wood was named by President McKinley as

Military Governor of Santo Domingo, Cuba and of Puerto Principe. In 1899 he was again made a Major-General and given the post of Military Governor of Cuba. General Wood served as governor of the reformed island until 1902, when it was turned over by the United States to the elected President of the new republic of Cuba.

During Wood's regime in Cuba the unsanitary conditions in the island were corrected, the death rate reduced and a stable civil government established. Wood personally supervised the clean-up, which was done mainly by regiments of U. S. Marines.

In Santiago conditions were deplorable. The streets of the city were piled high with filth. Plague threatened and thousands of persons were dying throughout the island. Starvation threatened. Wood ordered an investigation into food conditions and found that was the first thing to be tackled.

The investigation showed people were unable to get food because necessities had soared to outrageous prices. Beef, for instance, was selling at $1 a pound. Bread and other fundamentals were selling at corresponding figures. General Wood summoned the city aldermen and the butchers and after a hot session found the meat actually cost the butchers 15 cents a pound.

"Then beef from this day forward will be 25 cents a pound and not a penny more," Wood emphatically announced. He then told the aldermen he would hold them personally and officially responsible for holding the price at 25 cents and said he would expel any alderman who allowed a butcher to charge more.

Almost at once conditions were bettered. Disease waned as the people became better nourished. Before the job was finished, however, Wood was himself stricken. At first he had yellow fever and later contracted tropical malaria, ordinarily considered fatal. The general was back on the job as governor ten days later, though, thanks to his robust health and iron constitution.

Later Wood underwent an operation for a tumor on a lobe of his brain which formed after he had struck his head against a heavy chandelier that hung low over his desk at Havana. The accident, physicians said, has left no ill effect with the exception of a slight lurch in the general's step.

After leaving Cuba, General Wood was assigned to the Philippines where he was Governor of Moro Province of Mindanao. His promotion to Major-General of the regular forces occurred soon after he had reached the islands. During his rule in the islands the turbulent Moros were quieted, sanitation was improved and civil government placed on an efficient basis.

Wood was assigned to the post of Major General commanding the Philippines Division in 1906 with headquarters at Manila. In 1908 he returned to the United States and was assigned to the command of the Department of the East with headquarters at Governor's Island, New York.

BEGIN HOT WATER DRINKING IF YOU DON'T FEEL RIGHT

Says glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast washes out poisons.

If you wake up with a bad taste, bad breath and tongue is coated; if your head is aching, if what you eat scours and forms acid in stomach, or you are bilious, constipated, nervous, sallow and can't get feeling just right, begin inside bathing. Drink before breakfast, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will flush the poisons and toxins from stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels and cleanse, sweeten and purify the entire alimentary tract. Do your inside bathing immediately upon arising in the morning to wash out of the system all the previous day's poisonous waste, gases and sour bile before eating more food.

To feel like young folks feel; like you felt before your blood and muscles became loaded with body impurities, get from your pharmacist a quarter pound of limestone phosphate which is inexpensive and almost tasteless.

Men and women who are usually constipated, bilious, headachy or have any stomach disorder should begin at once this inside bathing before breakfast.

BLUE BALL CAMP ALSO SUFFERS FROM UN- INVITED VISITORS

Sheriff Anthony M. Gorman received the following letter on Wednesday last, which shows that the camp marauders allowed no camp in this entire region to remain uncathed. The letter explains itself. The name on the bottom of the candy box was that of a brother of one of the boys under arrest in the crusade to clean things up:

West Decatur, Pa.,
April 26, 1920.
Sheriff of Clearfield county,
Clearfield, Pa.,
Dear Sir:—

I notice in The Progress that you have found some of the lads who have been breaking into the camps on the mountain. Now our camp, located about two miles of Penfield Pike on DuBois Road, was broken into, I think on the Saturday night before Easter, as there was a lot of egg shells there, and the camp was in bad shape. I think by the way things looked there were about four persons and I think two of these were a couple ladies, as there was three or four empty candy boxes there. They left as two brand-new water pails.

I am enclosing the bottom of a candy box we found with the name of one of the visitors on it. We found it in the wood box. They ate some cannel goods that we left from hunting season, broke a window, busted in the door, which we had well locked, broke bottles and did everything that was mean.

Now if you can locate these persons and get enough evidence to prosecute we will pay you for your trouble, and we will well prosecute the outlaws.

Now if you do not have time to look this up, will you give this information to the county detective or some one else who will look into it and we will pay you and whoever looks it up. If necessary I can come out and talk to you.

Yours respectfully,
B. B. GEARHART,
(Secretary of Berkly Camp or Blue Ball Hunting Club. Located about two miles off Penfield Pike, up left hand branch of Moose Creek.)

Weak Links In a Strong Chain

That's just what imitation parts are when they become a part of your Ford car. They look strong enough, but the metal isn't there—the strong, durable Vanadium steel that goes into the Ford chassis and every Ford part. Ford parts are specially cast and heat-treated, each according to its use. Some require a hard, flint-like wearing surface, others need resiliency, and some need just "toughness."

Ford metallurgists have been studying those problems for sixteen years and know just how each unit should be made to endure a maximum of wear and tear. They know that best results can be obtained only by use of special formulas for different parts, and that honest Ford parts wear from thirty-five to one hundred per cent. longer than counterfeits.

We carry complete assortments of genuine Ford parts for both passenger cars and trucks. And our garages are equipped to give careful, prompt Ford service—from minor adjustments to complete overhauls. Drive in, it's better to be safe than sorry. Come to the authorized Ford dealers for service.

WILSON GRANTS MEXICAN TROOPS PASSAGE THRU ARIZONA AND NEW MEXICO TO REACH REBEL STATES

GOVERNOR OF TEXAS REFUSED TO PERMIT TRESPASS ON HIS STATE

IT IS SAID WILSON WANTS TO SHOW PRESIDENT CARRANZA WE ARE NOT FRIENDLY TO OBREGON

BUT WHY SHOW ANYTHING AT ALL?

WASHINGTON, May 3—President Wilson has granted the request of the Mexican federal army that they be allowed to pass over United States territory en route from Mexico City to the southern state of Sonora it was learned today.

The President taking this step through the State Department recognized the vigorous protest of Governor Hobby of Texas against the dispatch of Mexican troops across his state.

The troops will pass through Arizona and New Mexico, their executives having agreed to allow them to go that route to Mexico City.

Wilson's action in permitting the troops of Carranza to invade United States territory was taken to mean that the President does not want to be considered in sympathy with the Obregon rebels.

ANOTHER AMERICAN AND SON MURDERED IN MEXICO SUNDAY

WASHINGTON, May 3—Eben Francis Greenlaw, an American citizen and his minor son, were murdered by Mexican bandits near Palazolas, in the state of Mexico, near Eloro yesterday, the State Department announced today.

Greenlaw for many years was in the lumber business in Mexico. The American embassy at Mexico City has asked the government of Mexico to apprehend and punish the murderers.

MARYLAND PRIMARY VOTE IS LIGHT

BALTIMORE, May 3—The vote in both the Democratic and Republican presidential primaries was light throughout Maryland. Indications were that General Wood would lead. Wood and Senator Hiram Johnson were the only candidates on the G. O. P. ballot. Johnson had no organization. Only three spaces were provided on the Republican ballot. They were for Wood, Johnson and the uninstructed.

Pross and the landlord are in a critical condition but the others were not seriously hurt.

MOOSE MEMORIAL SERVICES SUNDAY

The annual memorial services of Clearfield Lodge No. 97, L. O. O. M. held in the Liberty Theatre, Sunday afternoon, was attended by an audience which filled every seat in the theatre.

The meeting was presided over by J. D. Connelly, Rev. Elbert V. Brown made the opening prayer.

Miss Celestia Bonney sang a very pretty solo, accompanied by Miss Margaret James on the piano.

The memorial address was delivered by A. R. Chase, Esq., and was a splendid effort.

The Loyal Order of Moose maintains a Children's home and vocational training school on a 1000 acre farm at Mooseheart, about 40 miles west of Chicago, and in addition to the regular memorial exercises four reels of moving pictures of Mooseheart were shown. The order looks after the welfare and education of the dependent children of deceased and indigent members of the order and at present more than eight hundred children are being housed, cared for and educated at Mooseheart, where many others equipped by a proper education there have been sent forth to battle with the world.

D. D. Guppy, organizer of the local lodge, and one of the State directors of the organization explained the policy of the Moose lodge and pointed out the advantages of this philanthropic institution while the pictures of Mooseheart were being shown.

The Loyal Order of Moose is distinctively an American order and has been in existence since 1888. It now numbers over five hundred thousand members throughout America and the local lodge has a membership of over five hundred.

THE BRISBIN FIRE

Sunday, May 24, was the thirty-eighth anniversary of the Brisbin fire. On this occasion away back in 1882 a forest fire swept that region, destroying the big saw mill and lumber yard of Hoover-Hughes & Company, and communicating with the frame buildings of the little mining town wiped it off the map.

A car load of provisions and clothing was dispatched from Clearfield to the fire sufferers on the following Monday.

1918—Commander of 89th Division, Camp Funston, Kan. Commander of Central Department (Chicago).
1920—On temporary leave of absence to conduct campaign for Presidency.

Leonard Wood is the heavyweight of the 1920 crop of Presidential candidates. He weighs 195 and lacks one inch of being 6 feet tall. His chest measurement is 44 inches. He used to box with Colonel Roosevelt and he likes to play golf. He is a swimmer of marked ability.

The General gets most pleasure, however, out of horseback riding. Although in his sixtieth year, he can outstride either of his two sons or any man on his staff. It often has been said his love of riding accounted for his desertion of medicine in favor of a straight army career.

In making his rounds as Commander of the Central Department of the Army, General Wood is called on many times to speak. On these occasions and during his campaign for the Presidency, he reaches the platform fresh, buoyant and genial.

When he starts speaking he either clasps his hands behind his back or grasps a chair or platform rail in front of him. Yet none of the force of his argument or clear presentment is lost by his lack of gestures. He invariably has created favorable impressions. In the course of his address he speaks deliberately and emphatically.

They say General Wood never gives orders he himself can't or won't do. Once in Cuba he was training some of his privates to swim. He wanted them to be able to swim across a river with all their equipment on. To prove it could be done, he strapped a big knapsack across his shoulders, grabbed a gun and plunged into the stream.

Leonard Wood was born October 9, 1860, at Winchester, N. H., a town of 2,000 in the southwestern corner of the state. He attended the schools of the vicinity, doing college preparatory work at Pierce Academy, Middleboro, Mass. At 24 he had taken the Harvard Medical School course, from which he was graduated at the head of his class. He had intended

Believed He Fell Off B. R. & Railroad Bridge While Crossing To Pick Dandelions

BODY FOUND FLOATING IN RIVER

The body of Tomasso Pannoggo, an Italian railroad worker was found floating in the Susquehanna river, opposite the Sheep Rocks between 5:30 and 6:00 o'clock last evening.

The deceased, who was employed as a track hand on the New York Central road, lived at the bunk house on cars in the local yards and about 11 o'clock yesterday morning left the car and started across the river to gather dandelion greens. That was the last seen of Pannoggo alive.

About 5:30 o'clock last evening George Condon was standing in the door of his home at the Sheep Rocks when his attention was called to a bundle done up in a blue handkerchief and a man's hat floating down the river. He called the attention of his brother, who was nearby, to the floating objects. On looking up the river the body of a man was seen floating along with the current.

The Condons then ran out of their house and down the river a couple of hundred yards where they secured a boat and pulling out into the stream caught the body and brought it to shore. The hat and handkerchief also were picked up. The handkerchief contained a quantity of dandelions.

Word was at once telephoned to Dr. Paul Frantz who hurried to the scene but the man was beyond human aid when the doctor arrived.

District Attorney Arnold was notified and the remains taken to Leavy's Undertaking rooms. Sheriff Gorman made a hurried investigation and located one of Pannoggo's fellow workmen who identified the body at the undertaking rooms.

County Coroner Dr. J. I. Pollum, of DuBois, came to Clearfield this morning and held an inquest over the remains. No evidence of foul play was discovered and it is the opinion of the Coroner that Pannoggo was seized with an attack of vertigo while crossing the B. R. & P. railroad bridge and fell off the bridge into the river and was drowned.

The remains were prepared for burial by Undertaker Leavy and will be buried from St. Francis church tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. Interment in Calvary cemetery.

FULL ECLIPSE OF MOON PROVED TO BE A GRAND SPECTACLE

An eclipse of the moon, visible in all parts of America, afforded a splendid and interesting spectacle to a large number of people who happened to observe the skies last evening. The sky was practically cloudless and the phenomenon was visible throughout the entire process. The eclipse started in at 7 o'clock and continued until 10:41. The totality started at 8:15 and lasted until 9:30, during which time the face of the moon was entirely obscured.

The eclipse was seen under more favorable auspices, perhaps, than ever before, and was noticed by a large number of people.

Two years later, however, he received appointment as a First Lieutenant and Assistant Surgeon, in the United States Army. Right at the outset he saw action. Assigned to the medical staff of General Miles, he took part in the campaign in Arizona against the Apache Indians under Geronimo and Natchez. In that campaign

HELD THERE SINCE MARCH 7

NEW YORK, May 3—Alfredo Salfedo, who was one of the leaders in the plot to bomb the homes of prominent Americans last June, jumped to his death from the 14th floor of the Park-row building. This floor contained the offices of the Justice Department agents where Salfedo was confined in company with several others connected with the plot. Salfedo who is 37 years old was a printer and was alleged to have printed the literature found at the scene of the explosion at the home of Attorney General Palmer in Washington. Salfedo and the others were arrested May 7, and have been held in the building so their confederates would not know of their whereabouts. Wm. J. Flynn, chief of the department of justice operatives, said.

TEACHERS' FUND OVER $2,000,000

Receipts of the State School Employees' Retirement System have passed the $2,000,000 mark, the State and local school districts contributing $1,139,253.25 and the teachers and other employees $927,808.74. Considerable additional money is expected in the next few months.

The Retirement system has invested $200,000 of the funds in Victory Liberty Bonds and the remainder is being invested in school district and road bonds of the State.

Thus far 156 school employees have been retired on a super-annuation retirement allowance and forty-three on disability allowances, the average age of the former being 71.61 years and of the disability annuitants 49.05. The average monthly allowance paid to those retired for age is $26.75 and for disability $23.12. The total paid in superannuation annuities to April 1, was $15,429.55.

Five of each class of retirements have died since the establishment of the State.

PHILA. COPS MUST LOOK NATTY ON 15 CENT PAY INCREASE

PHILADELPHIA, May 1.—(United Press).—Members of the Philadelphia police force may have to employ valets. They recently were granted an increase in pay of fifteen cents a day.

Guardians of the law, who in the future fail to present neat appearance, will be tried for neglect of duty, according to an order issued by Superintendent of Police Mills. The order applies to the entire force, from Captain down to Turnkey—on or off duty.

"Keep your face cleanly shaven, hair neatly trimmed, clothing brushed and sponged, trousers pressed so as to show a crease front and back, and shoes shined," are among the suggestions. The ban has been placed on shoes run down at the heel. Caps are to be worn with visors well down over the eyes.

Failure of superiors to carry out the order will land the offenders before the trial board.

NO DRY LAW DECISION IS READY YET

MAY SEVENTEENTH GIVEN AS LIKELY DECISION DATE SUSPENSE AWFUL

WASHINGTON, May 3—The Supreme Court is to hand down decisions at noon today but indications are that an opinion on constitutional prohibition will not be made public. The prohibition question is so important that an extensive opinion has to be prepared and the court was engaged in hearing arguments all last week and did not have time to prepare the opinion.

The decision will probably not be handed down until May 17, as the Court will recess for two weeks.

ADDITIONAL WARSHIPS DISPATCHED TO MEXICO TO PROTECT AMERICANS

WASHINGTON, May 3—Additional United States destroyers will be sent to the eastern coast of Mexico to protect Americans it was announced at the State Department. The State Department asked the Navy Department to dispatch the destroyers at the urgent request of the Americans in Mexico. The only American vessel on the eastern coast is the cruiser Sacramento off Tampico. It was explained at the State Department that there was no imminent danger but the vessels were being sent merely to reassure United States citizens.

BAD BOYS OPERATING

There are a bunch of boys in the lower end of town and on Merrill street, Third Ward, who will get into trouble if they don't mend their ways. These boys are making a practice of taking bicycles and tricycles and after riding them around town, dumping them in ditches and out of the way places. The police uncovered two such tricycles on Saturday last.

Over on Merrill street bad boys and children generally are making life miserable for the neighbors. During the past week they have played havoc with personal property and laws generally and the police have been appealed to for relief.

Parents should keep a little closer tab on their youngsters and thus save trouble for their neighbors and themselves.

"He kept us out of sugar."

Every Knox a boost—for somebody.

Oh, why this suspense? Now they say May 17th is the day when we shall know whether we must look to soft drinks for hot weather relief.

Carranza evidently is a disciple of the "treat 'em tough" idea. His subjects murder our citizens and the tougher he treats us the more we give him.

Did you begin "The House of Whispers" Saturday evening? If not start today before it is too late. To help you out we reprint here a short synopsis of the opening chapter. This is the last call.

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I—Circumstances having prevented Spalding Nelson, clerk, joining the American forces going to France, he is in a despondent mood when he receives an invitation to dinner from his great-uncle Rufus Gaston. On his way to the house he meets, under peculiar circumstances, a young girl, apparently in trouble, to whom he has an opportunity to be of slight service. She lives in the same apartment building as Rufus Gaston, and he accompanies her to the house for a trip and want to leave Nelson in charge of the apartment. He accepts Gaston and his wife tell their great-nephew of mysterious noises—whispers—which they have heard in the house.

Outguessing Mr. Penrose is the latest indoor sport of the political "bug." His favorable comment on Mr. Knox at a time when the renowned Philander was never being mentioned was sufficient reason for the diversion of all gossip to an entirely new channel. Now the question is "does the senator mean it seriously to the extent that he and his colleagues will trot out the well ripened statesman as the expected dark horse of 1920. Not likely. Dark horses are not publicly groomed so early especially by the horsemen who has so many bets placed. The senator naturally has his own good reasons for mentioning Knox at this time. One thing is certain. It does not help any of the candidates already in the field and while it puts Knox in the limelight for a time, to us it appears that it is not Knox who will be the real dark horse. We are thankful the senator did not speak so of Sproul. Had he done so we would have lost hope for our governor as the possible dark horse.

Allowing the Mexican Federal army to make a foothold of sacred United States soil which has long been despoiled and ravaged by Mexicans without so much as a lifted hand against them by the Commander in Chief of the Mexican Federal army is an act for which Woodrow Wilson will be held responsible. The present Mexican government will be stable only so long as their ammunition and political power last. If we are to eventually be friends of Mexico we must be friendly now to all her factions, Sonora included. The portion of Mexico not in sympathy with Carranza will ever resent our letting her oppressor in by the back door. This action only serves to further embroil this country in Mexican affairs and makes us foster father to Carranza.

"Mitch" Palmer's May Day bomb outrages did not show up anywhere in this broad land on Saturday, although something of the kind had been scheduled or promised for Clearfield on Friday evening between the hours of 7:30 and 8:15 a letter was pasted on the door of Shaw Brothers on Nichols street in which the writer a particularly illiterate customer demanded that Shaw Brothers leave the small compact sum of $4,000 under the coal shed at the B, R. & P station on their store would be blown up by a bomb from an airplane.

The note was pasted upon the door with molasses and while it was generally regarded as the work of a crank or an idiot some little thought was given it, because the pasted had molasses with which to do his pasting. Anything sweet now adays, by the token of Palmer's Louisiana sugar price, can only be in the possession of the fellow with money and Shaw Brothers, while not in the least alarmed over the affair, thought it the better part of wisdom and prudence to acquaint the authorities with the affair.

The District Attorney and Sheriff were given the note and what information or suspicion there was available regarding the matter and the poor "nut" responsible is going to be pretty sure of an enforced vacation at the county's expense before he is much older.

Of course no further attention was paid to the demand for the placing of the coin and thus another "lemon exact dream" went up in smoke, with the Palmer bus-bow, as the store still stands.

HUGHES—WOOMER

Alexander Owen Hughes, son of Martin Hughes, of Clearfield, Pa. and Esther Gordon Woomer, daughter of Mrs. J. W. Woomer of Bigler, Pa., were united in the holy bonds of wedlock at the home of the bride in Bigler, at 6 p. m., April 22, 1920. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. L. McCoy, pastor of the United Brethren church of Bigler, in the presence of the immediate relatives of the contracting parties. The bridesmaid was Miss Mina Woomer, sister of the bride, and the groom was attended by his brother, Mr. William Hughes. Following the ceremony a sumptuous wedding supper was served.

Mr. Hughes holds a responsible position with the Williams Grove Brick Company, of Bigler, and Mrs. Hughes was a popular saleslady in the W. D. Walker & Brothers' store in Bigler. They will reside in Bigler, where they enjoy the best of wishes of their many friends.

was one of the prettiest girls I ever had seen. Her slim figure, her dark ankles, her straight, convincing nose, her rosy and youthful, was set off by a jaunty, light-colored frock, from under which a pair of soft black tights, and eyes, shaded by long lashes, looked out above a dainty nose, just a bit tipped, on either side of which a faint, dimple played.

To my great amazement she walked right up to me and stopped short. I observed that she seemed to be greatly agitated. Involuntarily I sprang to my feet and removed my hat, feeling certain that she had mistaken me for someone else.

She looked straight at me with an odd tightening of the lips. Into her great dark eyes came a look in which pride and fear seemed to mingle with utter loathing.

I am here," she said.

In my confusion I mumbled some thing, I hardly knew what. She looked

"You Were to Wear One, Too."

"I'm up and down with a puzzle, I said, and laid out her hand to a red card. She was waiting.

"You were to wear one, too," "I don't understand, I answered. "Didn't you," she asked hesitatingly, "didn't you come here about the papers?"

"What papers?" "You know—" "I don't know," I replied. "I know nothing about my papers. You must have mistaken me for someone else." But this was the place—the bench—the first bench.

"I sat down here quite by accident," "Oh," she exclaimed with a look of relief. "And you're not wearing a red card, are you?"

I recalled then with a sinking heart the ill-favored youth who in a room next to him had disputed the honor with me had been wearing a red card, and that he had muttered something about having a date. Yet it did not seem possible that a girl of this sort would be having a rendezvous with a scamp like him. I determined it possible to ascertain the girl's mission.

"I am merely waiting here," I hastened to explain. "until it is time for me to keep a dinner engagement with some relatives in the apartment house from which you came."

As I spoke I noticed that the fear and loathing had vanished from her eyes and that she was looking at me with a little college girl's air.

"I was waiting," she said, looking at her watch. "I was waiting for you."

"I was waiting for you," she said, looking at her watch. "I was waiting for you."

The Most Dreaded Work of The Week

How the housewife hates wash day—especially in the hot summer-time. Can you blame her? That back-breaking scrubbing, that standing over a hot wash boiler or ironing. The heat of summer sun is bad enough yet added to that is hard work over more intense, overcoming heat.

Wise women won't waste their health, looks and energy doing it. Considerate husbands won't allow them to. Humane people won't allow their servants to do such work in the summer time when a laundry like ours can do the work so efficient and at so trifling a cost.

Light Work of the Heavy Load

Capacity—that's an outstanding quality of Atlantic Gasoline. That is what it puts into the engine of your truck. That is the main distinction of Atlantic gasoline. Every atom of Atlantic gives pull, because every atom of it burns. It is all fuel, all energy, all value in advanced mileage.

Atlantic makes light work of the heavy load, because it does just what it is meant to do—sticks to the job on the level or on the hills. It is so flexible that it compensates for the whimsies of the carburetor. Once it is set, the driver goes on his merry way, getting over the ground, quickstep.

Atlantic vaporizes fast and thoroughly. It puts bounding pulsing life over the pistons. It works cleanly. It doesn't foul motor nor spark plug. Because it is all consumed, there is no leakage into cylinders or crank-case. So your lubrication stays right and doesn't get thinned out and useless.

Now is the time to buy the best gasoline you can get, and those who use it say Atlantic is that. Tank up your car at the Red Pump and have your truck drivers do the same. The Atlantic sign says, correctly,

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS CURWENSVILLE

J. M. McKinley, who is greatly interested in the boy scout movement in Curwensville, informed The Progress correspondent that there are now some sixty-four members on the roll-book. The next provoking question that arises is that the boys, and those interested in their welfare and advancement, have no place in which to hold their meetings, which is a great handicap to their progress and work. Will not those people who are always talking advancing the industrial, social and educational interests of the town, join hand in hand with Messrs. McKinley, Connelly and Brown, who constitute an advisory board of the Curwensville scouts, and make an unusual effort to secure suitable quarters for the four patrols? Could not the Friends' stone church building, situated at southwest end of Main street, be secured? The floor space is hardly large enough to accommodate all of the scouts at one time, but it would answer the purpose very well until more commodious quarters could be obtained. It is hardly a fair proposition to expect the three gentlemen above mentioned to do all the work unassisted, and looking at the situation from a moral and educational standpoint, it is the duty of all loyal citizens of the town to render what aid they can in moulding the character of every boy scout so that in good time he will be an honor to the church, his family and the town.

A little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Cook, who live at Naulton, was removed from her home to the Clearfield Hospital one day the latter part of last week, and was successfully operated upon for appendicitis.

A thirteen year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Mille, living on Ridge avenue, was sent to Clearfield Hospital last Friday by her physician Dr. Jenkins, where she will be treated for a severe attack of inflammatory rheumatism, and also have the tonsils removed.

A number of agricultural friends, despite the awful muddy roads, were in Curwensville on Saturday. From them your correspondent was able to glean the information that the planting of all spring crops was at least three weeks later than in other years. Many of them have not as yet plowed for either oats or corn.

Charles Shade, a track foreman on the Pennsylvania Railroad at Blue Ball, was a Sunday visitor with relatives. Prior to his entering the railroad service he was employed at the Pennsylvania Hide and Leather Company's plant as an outside foreman.

The social held in the Sunday School room of Grace Lutheran church last Friday evening was an entertaining affair and netted the young ladies under whose supervision it was given, the sum of ten dollars profit.

Some of the members of Rebekah Lodge, Odd Fellows, entertained Curwensville people Saturday afternoon and evening by holding a food sale in the room formerly occupied by the late Harry Teats. Both socially and financially the occasion was a success.

Mrs. Georgia Passmore, whose home is at Greensburg, Pa., is spending the week, or a large proportion of the same, with her sister, Mrs. Albert Maurer, Mrs. Passmore prior to her marriage, was an employee in the postoffice, under Postmaster Arnold.

Earl Clark, eldest son of Chief of Police Guy Clark, who left Curwensville some half dozen years ago to seek his fortune in the oil fields of Oklahoma, has made good and has sailed down quite a nice little "wad" for a rainy day. He is now located in Kansas, and is putting in his time selling oil stock.

Frank Weaver, who has been the efficient janitor of the two school buildings on this side of Anderson Creek, has resigned and will try some other vocation wherein the wages will be a little higher and the time put in to earn it much shorter than looking after the educational structures.

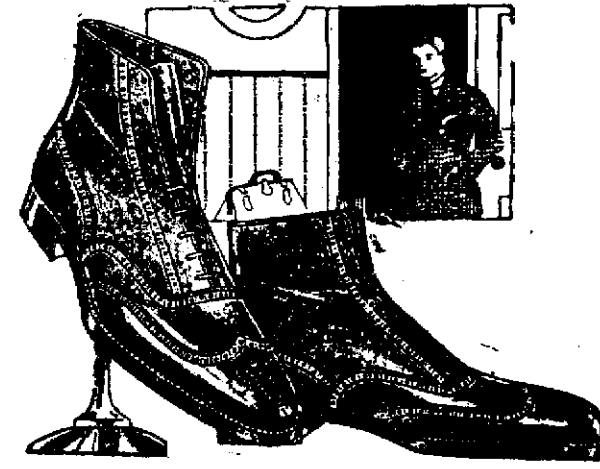

The funeral of W. B. Fox, who died last Friday forenoon, was held from his late home on Sunday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock. A large crowd assembled at the Fox home and marched to the cemetery, showing by their presence that the death of their friend had indeed cast a deep gloom throughout the entire community. Why You Should Buy Guaranteed Roofing

When you buy roofing you want durability as well as shelter. You want to know that it will last long enough to make its average cost per year a reasonable figure.

That is why Certain-teed should appeal to you. For, when properly laid, Certain-teed Roofing is guaranteed for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to weight.

The guarantee adequately protects your investment, but it does not accurately measure Certain-teed's life. In fact no one knows just how durable Certain-teed is, because in no case has it ever been known to wear out on the roof.

And Certain-teed is more than durable. It is weather-proof, fire-retarding and spark-proof. It effectively shelters your property.

With all these advantages, Certain-teed Roofing costs less to buy, less to lay and less to maintain, than any other type of good roofing.

See your dealer about Certain-teed. He either has it or can get it quickly from a nearby Certain-teed distributing center.

ful lest they might still be lurking about and overhear us. "There were two of them."

"Two," she whispered, turning pale. "Yes, one waiting here on this bench, and the other, a villainous scur-faced fellow, hiding in the bushes yonder. 'I dare not go on with it,' she sobbed, 'I dare not! I dare not! Oh, what shall I do?'"

"The thing to do now," I replied, "is for you to let me accompany you back to your home. They will make no further attempt to meet you this evening, since my presence has spoiled their plans. Come, let me escort you, Miss."

As I hesitated over the name she answered simply:

"Bradford—Barbara Bradford."

She pondered for a moment over my suggestion and then turned to walk with me toward the apartment house.

"What were the men like?" she asked.

I described them as best I could, though really the impression that the youth on the bench had left was vague. His voice, an insolent, hoarse, uncultivated one, was almost all I could recall about him.

"I wonder who they were? I wonder how they knew?"

"Knew what?"

Her lips tightened into a straight line.

"I can't tell you, I haven't. It isn't my secret."

By this time we had reached her home and the bowing doorman was swinging back the great iron door for us. It had been my intention to announce my arrival, but recalling that Miss Bradford had said that the Gaston apartment was on the same floor as hers, I stepped with her into the elevator. When it had descended, leaving us together in the corridor, she turned to me and offered her hand.

"Thank you so much, Mr. Nelson."

"I wish you'd let me help you," I cried.

She shook her head.

"Well, promise me one thing," I insisted.

"What is it?"

"That you never again will go alone to the park to meet those men."

A tremor shook her body, and once more a look of terror crept into her eyes.

"I can't promise that. I must meet them. I must! I must!"

I reached out and took her hand.

"Promise me, then, that before you go again you will let me know."

"You must not try to stop my going," she cried desperately and freeing her hand turned quickly and unlocking her door left me standing there alone, staring after her.

Perplexed beyond measure as to what I ought to do, after a moment I pressed the bell and was admitted to the Gaston apartment and to the presence of my aged relatives.

Although I tried to pretend an interest in their conversation and absent ly answered their questions about my family, my thoughts kept constantly recurring to the strange trouble of the girl across the hall, her plight interesting me far more than the purpose for which my great-uncle had sent for me. I had expected that he would broach that subject himself, but the coffee arrived and still the conversation had been limited to stilted family chat. As we returned to the living room, I decided to give him a lead:

"My mother wrote me—" I began.

"Oh, yes," said old Rufus, looking relieved.

"Yes, yes, of course," echoed Mrs. Gaston.

I waited for one or the other of them to proceed but for some reason they both seemed at a loss for words.

"You tell him, Rufus," said my great-aunt at last.

His tired old eyes studied my countenance carefully, searchingly, as if he was trying to read my soul.

"What is it?" I asked impatiently.

"It is this," said old Rufus, speaking slowly and with effort, as if he hated to disclose his intentions.

"Three days from now—that will be Sunday morning—my wife and I are going to Maine to be gone for some months. We have leased a furnished cottage there and shall take our servants and our motor with us. We do not like to leave this apartment wholly untenanted, and it occurred to Mrs. Gaston that you might occupy it in our absence."

I am afraid my countenance at that moment must have betrayed my consternation. My great expectations vanished, blew up, disappeared. They did not want me for an heir but for a caretaker. What a fool I had been to imagine for a moment that this peculiar old couple had contemplated doing anything for me. They wanted me to do something for them. A

Any breaking out or skin irritation on face, neck or body is overcome quickest by applying Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation that instantly brings ease from the itching, burning and irritation.

Mentho-Sulphur heals eczema right up, leaving the skin clear and smooth. It seldom fails to relieve the disfigurement. A little jar of Mentho-Sulphur may be obtained at any drug store. It is used like cold cream.

The Cold That Hangs On

This is No. 5 of a series of advertisements, prepared by a competent physician, explaining how certain diseases which attack the air passages—such as Pneumonia, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Measles or even a long continued Cold—often leave these organs in an inflamed, congested state, thus affording a favorable foothold for invading germs. And how Vick's Vapo-Rub may be of value in this condition.

A cold is simply an inflammation of some part of the air passages—throat, larynx or bronchial tubes—just like a sore is an inflammation of the skin. A long continued cold means constant inflammation and this constant inflammation frequently weakens the air passages so that they become an easy point of attack for invading germs of more serious diseases. A "cold that hangs on," therefore, is simply nature's "red flag" indicating that there is "trouble below," and this warning should never be neglected.

Nightly applications of Vick's VapoRub will aid nature to clear up that inflammation. Because Vick's acts locally by stimulation thru the skin to draw out the inflammation, attract the blood away from the congested spots

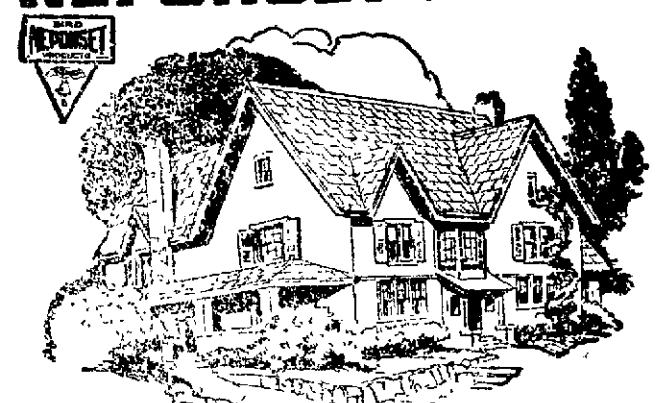

Vicks should be rubbed in over the throat and chest until the skin is red—then spread on thickly and covered with hot flannel cloths. Leave the clothing loose around the neck and the bed clothes arranged in the form of a funnel so the vapors arising may be freely inhaled. If the cough is annoying, swallow a small bit of Vicks the size of a pea.

Samples to new users will be sent free on request to The Vick Chemical Company, 235 Broad Street, Greensboro, N. C.

NEPONSET ROOFS

For Buildings of All Kinds

For sloping roofs on residences, garages, bungalows, or public buildings, Neponset Twin Shingles make as handsome and durable a roof as it is possible to find anywhere—and they are most economical.

Neponset Twin Shingles are impregnated with asphalt and heavily surfaced with crushed slate. No wonder they resist time and wear. Their natural slate-red and slate-green colors are restful and beautiful.

They will not catch fire from falling sparks. Because they are two shingles in one and self-spacing, they require less labor and less nails to lay.

In the Springtime

It is just at this time of the year that we need something taken from Nature to restore the vital forces.

People get sick because they go away from Nature, and the only way to get back is back. Something grows out of the ground in the form of vegetation and is almost every ill. Some of these vegetable growths are understood by man and some are not. Animals, it seems, know what to do when they are sick better than men and women. Observers have noted that a dog, horse, dog or cat will stop eating and seek out some vegetable growth in the field or yard, which, when found and eaten, often restores appetite and health. Haven't you seen these animals do this very thing yourself?

Dr. Pierre, of Buffalo, N. Y., long since found herbs and roots provided by Nature to overcome constipation, and relieve the cough. In addition, the medicinal ingredients of Vicks are vaporized by the body heat. These vapors are breathed in all night long, thus bringing the medication to bear directly upon the inflamed areas.

Don't you see how useless all this suffering is? All that is often needed is a dose of castor oil, or something which is more pleasant, a few of Dr. Pierre's Pleasant Pellets, which he has placed in all drug stores for your convenience and health. Try them by all means. They are probably the very thing you need,—right now.

"PARLOR, BEDROOM AND BATH"

Abounding with happy developments, situations and a plot of never ending interest "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath" the A. H. Woods' famous farce, which comes to the Driggs Theatre on Tuesday, is said to be the most laughable entertainment of the past ten years. Each time a season of triumph that lasts five months in Chicago and six in months in New York, this attraction has just ended its engagement at the Republic Theatre. "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath" will be given local theatre goers in its entirety, with the same production and the usual cast of the Woods' standard. What fun pieces when a young husband ventures into an affair with a wife's maid to convince his wife he is a free man, the ladies furnished a reason for the unfolding of the laughable tale.

G. P. Stahl of DuBois, Secretary of the Clearfield County Non-Partisan Political Committee, and one of the most intelligent labor leaders of the section, was a clear vision to day.

White House Hopes

When he served as a line officer and surgeon and for his extraordinary services he several years later was awarded a Congressional Medal of Honor.

When in 1898 the war with Spain broke out, Wood now married to Miss Louise A. Condit Smith and a Captain and Assistant Surgeon, recruited and organized the First Regiment of United States Volunteer Cavalry, the celebrated "Rough Riders." He was commissioned Colonel of the regiment and with Colonel Theodore Roosevelt he served in Cuba.

Wood was commissioned a Brigadier General in 1898 for gallant and meritorious services at the battles of San Juan Hill and Las Guasimas. In the next year he was promoted to Major General. He served as such for four months when he was mustered out of the volunteer forces and later was re-appointed a brigadier-general in the regular forces.

When the war was over, Wood was named by President McKinley as

Military Governor of Santo Domingo, Cuba and of Puerto Principe. In 1899 he was again made a Major-General and given the post of Military Governor of Cuba. General Wood served as governor of the reformed island until 1902, when it was turned over by the United States to the elected President of the new republic of Cuba.

During Wood's regime in Cuba the unsanitary conditions in the island were corrected, the death rate reduced and a stable civil government established. Wood personally supervised the clean-up, which was done mainly by regiments of U. S. Marines.

In Santiago conditions were deplorable. The streets of the city were piled high with filth. Plague threatened and thousands of persons were dying throughout the island. Starvation threatened. Wood ordered an investigation into food conditions and found that was the first thing to be tackled.

The investigation showed people were unable to get food because necessities had soared to outrageous prices. Beef, for instance, was selling at $1 a pound. Bread and other fundamentals were selling at corresponding figures. General Wood summoned the city aldermen and the butchers and after a hot session found the meat actually cost the butchers 15 cents a pound.

"Then beef from this day forward will be 25 cents a pound and not a penny more," Wood emphatically announced. He then told the aldermen he would hold them personally and officially responsible for holding the price at 25 cents and said he would expel any alderman who allowed a butcher to charge more.

Almost at once conditions were bettered. Disease waned as the people became better nourished. Before the job was finished, however, Wood was himself stricken. At first he had yellow fever and later contracted tropical malaria, ordinarily considered fatal. The general was back on the job as governor ten days later, though, thanks to his robust health and iron constitution.

Later Wood underwent an operation for a tumor on a lobe of his brain which formed after he had struck his head against a heavy chandelier that hung low over his desk at Havana. The accident, physicians said, has left no ill effect with the exception of a slight lurch in the general's step.

After leaving Cuba, General Wood was assigned to the Philippines where he was Governor of Moro Province of Mindanao. His promotion to Major-General of the regular forces occurred soon after he had reached the islands. During his rule in the islands the turbulent Moros were quieted, sanitation was improved and civil government placed on an efficient basis.

Wood was assigned to the post of Major-General commanding the Philippines Division in 1906 with headquarters at Manila. In 1908 he returned to the United States and was assigned to the command of the Department of the East with headquarters at Governor's Island, New York.

BEGIN HOT WATER DRINKING IF YOU DON'T FEEL RIGHT

Says glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast washes out poisons.

If you wake up with a bad taste, bad breath and tongue is coated; if your head is aching, if what you eat scours and forms acid in stomach, or you are bilious, constipated, nervous, sallow and can't get feeling just right, begin inside bathing. Drink before breakfast, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will flush the poisons and toxins from stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels and cleanse, sweeten and purify the entire alimentary tract. Do your inside bathing immediately upon arising in the morning to wash out of the system all the previous day's poisonous waste, gases and sour bile before eating more food.

To feel like young folks feel; like you felt before your blood and muscles became loaded with body impurities, get from your pharmacist a quarter pound of limestone phosphate which is inexpensive and almost tasteless.

Men and women who are usually constipated, bilious, headachy or have any stomach disorder should begin at once this inside bathing before breakfast.

BLUE BALL CAMP ALSO SUFFERS FROM UN- INVITED VISITORS

Sheriff Anthony M. Gorman received the following letter on Wednesday last, which shows that the camp marauders allowed no camp in this entire region to remain uncathed. The letter explains itself. The name on the bottom of the candy box was that of a brother of one of the boys under arrest in the crusade to clean things up:

West Decatur, Pa.,
April 26, 1920.
Sheriff of Clearfield county,
Clearfield, Pa.,
Dear Sir:—

I notice in The Progress that you have found some of the lads who have been breaking into the camps on the mountain. Now our camp, located about two miles of Penfield Pike on DuBois Road, was broken into, I think on the Saturday night before Easter, as there was a lot of egg shells there, and the camp was in bad shape. I think by the way things looked there were about four persons and I think two of these were a couple ladies, as there was three or four empty candy boxes there. They left as two brand-new water pails.

I am enclosing the bottom of a candy box we found with the name of one of the visitors on it. We found it in the wood box. They ate some cannel goods that we left from hunting season, broke a window, busted in the door, which we had well locked, broke bottles and did everything that was mean.

Now if you can locate these persons and get enough evidence to prosecute we will pay you for your trouble, and we will well prosecute the outlaws.

Now if you do not have time to look this up, will you give this information to the county detective or some one else who will look into it and we will pay you and whoever looks it up. If necessary I can come out and talk to you.

Yours respectfully,
B. B. GEARHART,
(Secretary of Berkly Camp or Blue Ball Hunting Club. Located about two miles off Penfield Pike, up left hand branch of Moose Creek.)

Weak Links In a Strong Chain

That's just what imitation parts are when they become a part of your Ford car. They look strong enough, but the metal isn't there—the strong, durable Vanadium steel that goes into the Ford chassis and every Ford part. Ford parts are specially cast and heat-treated, each according to its use. Some require a hard, flint-like wearing surface, others need resiliency, and some need just "toughness."

Ford metallurgists have been studying those problems for sixteen years and know just how each unit should be made to endure a maximum of wear and tear. They know that best results can be obtained only by use of special formulas for different parts, and that honest Ford parts wear from thirty-five to one hundred per cent. longer than counterfeits.

We carry complete assortments of genuine Ford parts for both passenger cars and trucks. And our garages are equipped to give careful, prompt Ford service—from minor adjustments to complete overhauls. Drive in, it's better to be safe than sorry. Come to the authorized Ford dealers for service.
